INTERPROFESSIONAL EDUCATION FOR COLLABORATIVE PRACTICE: LEADERSHIP STRATEGIES FOR BRIDGING THE GAPS

IPEC INTERPROFESSIONAL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM (ILDLP)

June 22-24, 2022

GEORGIA TECH HOTEL AND CONFERENCE CENTER
 ATLANTA

Facilitated by the Academy for Advancing Leadership (AAL), the IPEC Interprofessional Leadership Development Program (ILDLP) is a three-day, interactive professional development experience that engages leaders responsible for the development, implementation, and assessment of campus-wide IPE initiatives, and residency/fellowship leaders in IPECP. Participants will build strong networks of colleagues, learn about successes at other institutions, and engage with national leaders in IPECP. Educators will engage with practitioners to discuss challenges and solutions for translating interprofessional education to collaborative practice.

WHY YOU SHOULD PARTICIPATE

The IPEC ILDP provides an unparalleled learning experience for school and campus-wide leaders of IPE, and residency/fellowship leaders in IPECP. With the 2022 focus on leadership strategies for bridging the gaps between interprofessional education and collaborative practice, the overall goals of the program are to:

- Identify common gaps between interprofessional education (IPE) and collaborative practice (CP).
- Foster a dialogue about bridging these gaps between educators and practitioners.
- Evaluate the applicability of success strategies used at other institutions.
- Engage in problem-solving discussions with other participants.
- Develop a plan to bridge gaps at your home institution.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT THE IPEC LEADERSHIP PROGRAM

"The bonding our table reached as a group was magic. We were very open with each other, able to listen, ask questions, and commit to each other."

Mary Lopez, PhD, RN, Dean
 Western University of Health Sciences
 College of Graduate Nursing

"The IPEC ILDP was three engaging days worth three years of IPE program development. Great presentations, great participants, and great experience. IPE starts with collaboration!"

Robert Orlikoff, PhD, Dean
 East Carolina University College of Allied Health Sciences

"I think the program was excellent... You could see the passion in the instructors, who were very well versed in the topics that they talked about. As a social worker, I got a great sense of how interprofessional education can be instrumental in terms of social workers in healthcare settings. I think this is the wave of the future, and this program will gain traction in the future..."

Martell Teasley, DSW, Dean
 University of Utah College of Social Work

"I found this eye-opening, inspirational, and invaluable. Thank you to AAL for a great program. The feedback and support of my assigned peer group was fantastic, and I hope to stay in touch with them and continue to give and receive support, advice, and encouragement as we pursue excellence in IPE."

Jonathon Egan, DC, MPH, PhD, Dean
 Southern California University of Health Sciences
 Los Angeles College of Chiropractic
